

COOKIES POLICY

Cookies are small text files which websites place on your computer when you visit the site. Cookies are used on websites to help visitors navigate around them effectively. They are also used to perform certain functions within a website.

Cookies also provide information to the owners of a website to analyse visitor behaviour patterns, for example, how many visitors view a page. You can disable cookies through your internet browser however, this may impact on how websites you visit work. More information about cookies can be found at www.allaboutcookies.org.

Our use of cookies?

We use cookies on our website to help you navigate around the website more effectively, for example, cookies will make it easier for you to log in to secure areas of the website upon future visits. The cookies will also help us deliver a more personalised visitor experience, particularly in relation to downloading documents.

We use analytic cookies to help us monitor our website traffic and trends through our web analytics programme. All information about how you use this website is in anonymous form and will not identify you as an individual.

If you as a visitor subscribe to the secure area of this website you consent to us sending you useful updates and information about our services.

If you choose not to accept cookies from this website, you can change the settings in your internet browser. Further information on this can be found below.

How to manage cookies?

Your internet browser allows you to manage cookies. You will be able to remove and disable any cookies through the settings in your internet browser. For more information about how to manage cookies visit <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies/>

Please note – this information applies only to this website and not to other websites to which this site links. Please view our <https://boltonladsandgirlsclub.co.uk/privacy-policy/> regarding links to other third-party websites.